Fee:

The fees for participating in the course and the examination can be found in the relevant overview of dates. The fees for participating in the course and examination are due at the beginning of the training without any deduction.

Registration:

Our seminars are open to all interested parties. Registrations must be made in writing; it must be clear via the registration who the invoice recipient is. You are obligated by the registration.

Cancellation:

In the event of a cancellation, which must always be made in writing, 10% of the course fees will be charged up to 4 weeks before the start of the course. In the event of cancellation up to 14 days before the start of the course, 50% of the course fees will be charged. In the event of any later cancellation, the entire amount will be charged. Naturally, substitutions of registered participants are possible. The date of receipt of the cancellation applies.

There is no right to (partial) reimbursement of any participation fees already paid, e.g. if the participant cancels the training whilst it is ongoing, does not pass the exams, or if he wishes to participate in another training course at another date.

We reserve the right to cancel a seminar due to a low number of participants, even at short notice, or if there are reasons for which we are not responsible (e.g. illness of the lecturer, force majeure). In such cases, the participants or the registering company are notified immediately.

Should reasons arise after the start of the seminar that prevent its continuation (e.g. illness of the lecturer), the seminar can be interrupted or cancelled. If necessary, alternative dates will be offered.

Examination:

For some courses or seminars, an examination is offered. If a participant fails any part of the exam (practical, oral or written), new dates for the re-examination will be suggested to the participant. If such an appointment is taken, no new examination fee will be due. If no date is acceptable, an examination board may be convened for a separate supplementary examination. In such a case, the applicant must pay the additional examination fee.

Severability clause :

If any provisions of these Terms and Conditions of Participation are or become invalid, the remaining provisions shall not be affected thereby.
